

Jeffrey Cook
President and Chief Operating Officer
Stellar Holdings

With extensive international experience in strategic leadership, corporate finance, new business development and mergers and acquisitions, Jeff serves as president and chief operating officer of Stellar Holdings.

Jeff has worked closely with the strategic transformation of Stellar's Swedish operations since joining Stellar in 2003. He has also been primarily responsible for driving Stellar's entry into the rapidly growing Polish real estate sector. For Thornton Place Jeff has overseen all aspects of the project's predevelopment, development and now, its evolution into a functioning community.

Jeff earned a Bachelor of Arts in economics from Stanford University in 1978. From there he went on to work at Penford Corporation (NASDAQ:PENX), a publicly traded $350 million food and industrial ingredients company where he built his career for over 21 years. Jeff served in a variety of responsibilities including treasurer, chief financial officer and for his last five years at Penford, he served as the company's president and CEO. Jeff has been an outside director of Penford for the past six years.

Jeff also serves on the boards of the Port Blakely Companies, a private timber and real estate development company; Powerit Holdings, a private energy-related software company; Eoscene Corporation, a private business portal software company; and Bygg Vesta AB, a wholly owned subsidiary of Stellar Holdings.